Syracuse University
where talent, innovation,
and opportunity thrive

Syracuse University is a community of faculty, students, and professionals dedicated to academic excellence and student success. Our scholars on campus and around the world prioritize teaching excellence and innovative research. Our diverse, entrepreneurial students embrace discovery and pursue real-world impact. This enables them to apply knowledge in meaningful ways and prepares them for the challenges and opportunities of the 21st century.

Offering undergraduate and graduate programs through:

School of Architecture
soa.syr.edu
Syracuse Architecture offers a professional education that is disciplinary and rooted in humanistic tradition.

The College of Arts and Sciences
thecollege.syr.edu
The founding college of Syracuse University remains at the center of undergraduate learning and is home to numerous research institutes and centers.

School of Education
soeweb.syr.edu
The School of Education is a national leader in enhancing educational practice and a pioneer in the inclusion movement.

College of Engineering and Computer Science
eng-cs.syr.edu
The College educates engineers and computer scientists who push the boundaries of cutting edge technologies and their application.

David B. Falk College of Sport and Human Dynamics
falk.syr.edu
The College prepares professionals to promote health and well-being for people of all ages, their families, and communities within the framework of social justice principles.

School of Information Studies
ischool.syr.edu
The nation's original Information School, the nationally ranked iSchool continues to be a leading center for innovative programs and research.

College of Law
law.syr.edu
As part of a leading research university, the law curriculum combines a balanced commitment to scholarship, teaching, and research.

The Martin J. Whitman School of Management
whitman.syr.edu
The School develops entrepreneurial leaders and strategists in the competitive world of global business.

Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs
maxwell.syr.edu
Nationally ranked, the Maxwell School advances citizenship, scholarship, and leadership around the world.

S.I. Newhouse School of Public Communications
newhouse.syr.edu
One of the nation's top schools of mass communication, Newhouse prepares students to become leaders in a rapidly changing media landscape.

College of Visual and Performing Arts
vpa.syr.edu
The center of cultural life on campus, VPA supports the creative process and professional development of students.

Learn more about Syracuse University at syr.edu

Learn about University benefits at humanresources.syr.edu/benefits

Syracuse University is located in Syracuse, New York, in the heart of New York State. The region is commonly referred to as Central New York (CNY). CNY is within easy driving distance of New York City, Philadelphia, Boston, Toronto, and Montreal. Relaxing in the CNY area means enjoying lakes and rivers, mountains and countryside, arts and culture, and spectator sports—all within easy reach. Head northeast to the Adirondacks, a four-season destination for vacations, day trips and weekend getaways. Travel south to four major ski areas or north to the picturesque towns and sparkling waters of the Thousand Islands. West of Syracuse, the Finger Lakes beckon with more than 100 wineries strung along their shores. East of Syracuse, are Cooperstown and Glimmerglass, magnets for baseball and opera fans. Lake Ontario is an hour away, offering beaches, boating, and salmon and steelhead fishing.

In addition to scenic getaways, history buffs can discover CNY's long tradition of supporting equal rights. Visit the Harriet Tubman Home in Auburn, and the Women's Rights National Park, just miles away in Seneca Falls. Throughout the area, you can learn about The Haudenosaunee Six Nations, the first residents of New York, whose rich cultural legacy continues to inspire current and future generations.

CNN Money ranked Syracuse as the major U.S. city with the most affordable housing and the Brookings Institution named it one of the top 20 metropolitan areas. Syracuse is a great place to live, work, play, and raise a family. There are a myriad of quality schools, both public and private.

One of the more distinctive features of Syracuse's skyline is the white roof of the Syracuse University Carrier Dome, the only domed stadium of its kind in the Northeast United States or on any college campus in the country. The 50,000-seat dome gives a huge home-team advantage to the school's basketball, football, and lacrosse teams and plays host to major concerts and community events.

Spring through fall, CNY hosts countless festivals, concerts, and cultural events. Locals and visitors alike enjoy the diverse music, theater, and art scene. Every summer Syracuse hosts the Syracuse Jazz Festival, which has included such artists as Kenny G., Aretha Franklin, B.B. King, Wynton Marsalis, Natalie Cole, Dave Brubeck, and Ray Charles.

One thing Central New York residents love is the variety of dining options in each neighborhood. Whether you go for fine or informal dining, there's something to satisfy every appetite, from vegetarian, to Thai, to blues-inspired barbeque.

Learn more about Syracuse at visitsyracuse.org

Find out about higher education employment opportunities in the area at upstatenyherc.org

SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY
SUOS CULTORES
SCIENTIA
CORONAT
FOUNDED A·D· 1870

View available positions at sujobopps.com

Follow @SUJobs on